Panel: Pakistan Food Security and Nutrition Strategic Review: Preliminary Findings

Food security and nutrition remain central areas of focus for the Government of Pakistan (GoP) and all humanitarian and development partners in the country. In order to identify the key challenges in achieving food security, improved nutrition and provide prioritised areas for action, a Food Security and Nutrition Strategic Review is being carried out in Pakistan.

This Strategic Review is an independent analytical exercise undertaken through a consultative and inclusive process, involving relevant stakeholders at national and sub-national levels in all areas of the country, under the facilitation of a Strategic Review Research Team composed by the International Food Policy Research Institute (IFPRI) and the Aga Khan University (AKU). Based on the inputs from an extensive consultative process and a review of relevant literature, the Strategic Review Research Team has prepared a summary of preliminary findings, which will be presented for discussion during this panel. The outcomes of this panel will be consolidated in the final report of the Strategic Review, which shall support planning by the GoP for progressing towards Vision 2025, the SDGs and other relevant strategies in the areas of food security and nutrition. The Strategic Review will also support the realignment of the strategies and programmes of the United Nations and other development partners in the country.
